The Asian Financial Forum (AFF) brings together some of the world's most influential monetary minds and the region's most dynamic business leaders to discuss the opportunities and challenges facing Asia's economic development amid the turbulent global financial situation.

Under the theme "The Changing Face of Asia", AFF will cover a variety of financial issues, including Asia's role in global financial markets, the implications of global volatility for Asia, financial reforms and changes in the regulatory regime, Islamic finance, the global investment climate and new business models amid the financial turmoil. There will also be a session on issues including energy, natural resources and environmental protection which will have direct impact on the investment and business strategies.

AFF is the place for bankers, institutional investors, fund managers, business leaders, senior executives of high-growth corporations and other key financial players to build new contacts, gather the latest intelligence and explore business opportunities with the focus on China and the rest of Asia .
